Forecasting – Nick Lesser and Henry Gronlund

- Iowa State Daily

 - Please forecast! Only a few more weeks left!
- WxChallenge
 - Current Team Placement: 29th Place
 - Please forecast!
 - Year-End Tournaments
 - ISU-only competition, similar to march madness
 - Tournament rules:
 - Forecasts will be made on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday by 00 UTC. There is no forecasting on Wednesday. I would still put in a forecast at the begin of the week to make sure you don't miss a forecast.
 - It will be a head to head competition of the start to the end.
 - Each round will last two days and the person with the better score will move on. In case of ties the person that has the better score on the second day advances
 - It is single elimination. Once you lose you are done.
 - If you miss a forecast during this period you are disqualified and eliminated from the tournament.
 - After each "round" the scores will be reset and it will only be how you forecast against your new opponent. Your total score for the city is not used to determine if you advance or not.

- Congratulations, Sean Spratley!
 - Sean will receive a trophy after tying for first place in the freshmen/sophomore category in Bismarck, ND.

- Constitution changes.... Again.... 😊
 - Problem: Due to the constitution changes made at the previous meeting, we are technically disqualified from being a member of the LAS council (and therefore can no longer petition for funding from the council...)
 - The LAS council requires that you are affiliated with a department in order to receive funding through them.
 - Vote: Amend the constitution to the following wording: The ISU AMS is a student-run organization of Iowa State University and is not directly funded by the Iowa State University Department of Geological and Atmospheric Sciences, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, or any other organization.
 - Vote passes.

- AMS Spotlight Freshmen

- Cheney Spaulding
 - Hometown?
 - I was born in Lake City, Iowa, but I was raised in Fort Dodge, Iowa. When I was 18, I moved to Guthrie, Oklahoma for 6 months before coming to Iowa State.
 - Favorite Music?
 - my favorite music group is pentatonix. They are extremely talented, and I love that they sound just the same live as they do in a recording.
 - Favorite Movie?
 - my favorite movie has to be Hairspray. The songs are great, and the story is really inspirational.
 - Hobbies?
 - singing is my biggest hobby. I'm always singing or humming something! I also love to dance and draw in my free time.
 - Favorite Sports Team?
 - I will watch sports from time to time, but I don't have a favorite team. My favorite sport to watch is Hockey.
 - Favorite Weather Phenomenon?
 - I absolutely love thunderstorms. The lightning strikes are so exquisite, and thunder is powerful. I wouldn't mind spending my day just watching a storm pass through.
 - Favorite Season?
 - Spring is my favorite season hands down. Winter is a season where people would rather be inside all bundled up, and it's known as the season that brings out depression. When spring rolls around, the air smells fresh, and people actually go outside to hang out. I love see all the diversity really stand out when it's spring time.
 - Random Fun Fact?
 - The most important fact to know about me is that I am obsessed with the color yellow.
